Finding a good version of a part-time job without the Internet, which can be combined with study, is quite difficult. Finding a suitable place, including interviews, will be time-consuming. The main task is to find work on a convenient schedule so as not to miss classes.

But young people have a number of advantages: they are very active, they work at the limit of possibilities, they are easy to manage, they are universal, they quickly adapt.

Employers understand these advantages (for example, in fast food outlets), so the student only needs to show himself in a favorable light. Animator Perhaps this is an ideal job for teens from 15-16 years old. You just need to be able to get along with people, amuse the audience, and independently come up with useful and interesting games. Good health, care is required. The animator has employment all year round (in the same shopping centers or shops, for example).

Often, the animators themselves create their own schedule, for example, it will be more convenient for the student to work on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. Salary depends on the number of hours worked. You can get about 1,000 rubles a day. If you are lucky with the customer, you can get bonuses.

You need to be prepared for the features of the profession:

hot, cold, rain, hail you have to work in any weather;

leaflets are sorted out slowly, and the promoter (who is this?) must hand out the entire pack; Stickers face a lot of problems.

Schoolchildren and students are often arranged as promoters, which is why companies can easily create their own schedule. If this is done correctly, then such work will not interfere with study. You can get about 500 rubles a day, it all depends on the number of hours spent.

Courier

One of the most common hack for teenagers from 15 years old. The courier's task is to deliver papers newspapers goods to the specified address. You will have to travel a lot, and at your own expense, work in any weather, carry heavy bags. Couriers earn 100-200 rubles per hour.

Handmade

Creative work is especially popular with teenage girls. Original handmade jewelry during the summer is expensive. The main problem is finding buyers.
